Brain Power: Memory & Focus

LifeBotanica's Brain Power: Memory & Focus

“ Breakthrough supplement to stay sharp and focused even as you age ”

You believe that forgetfulness is part of aging. Eventually your brain grows old together with the rest of the body. You're no longer as quick-witted as you were years ago. You fear that you are losing precious memories faster.

But...

What if there's a way for you to keep your cognitive performance at maximum capacity?

LifeBotanica's Brain Power: Memory & Focus

A healthy brain is crucial for you to think, act, and live well. It allows you to enjoy life and stay on top of your game.

What does science say?

As you age, changes happen in your brain, and along with these are changes in your mental function.

So, it's necessary to make choices that can have significant impact on the health of our minds.

A growing number of studies confirm that proper supplementation, together with healthy lifestyle, may help improve brain health and reduce the risks of age-related cognitive decline such as dementia and Alzheimer's disease.

Ginkgo Biloba

It contains terpenes that allow the improvement of blood (micro)circulation at both peripheral and cerebral level, while polyphenols and flavonoids act on cell membranes, stabilizing and counteracting the formation of free radicals, slowing the oxidation processes and contrasting the physical and mental stress.

Bacopa monnieri

Bacopa monnieri has been shown to improve cognition and mood. It is also used for reducing anxiety and depressive symptoms, attention deficit-hyperactivity disorder and general stress. It promotes healthy brain network communication, which results to efficient memory encoding and retrieval.

Phosphatidylserine (or PS) which regulates the entrance of nutrients and the exit of discards and directly enhances communication between brain cells.

DMAE promotes acetylcholine functionality, which positively impacts attention, concentration, memory and mental energy, boosting reasoning power, increasing creative thought, and improving memory recall.

LifeBotanica's Brain Power: Success Stories!

This is what others say about their experience with Brain & Memory Power :

The Lifebotanica Brain Formula was perfect for me as a student. Being someone with an active lifestyle, who also cares about his health, the Brain formula offered me a solution to being sharper and smarter with my studies, while avoiding harmful ingredients for my body. I'd recommend the product for anyone who wants to sharpen their mind and have a healthier brain. Thank you!

– Jacob Bonheur

I am not really into food supplements. I mean, I'm young and at my prime. I would have to admit though that for the past few months, I have become more forgetful. Maybe, I was just too preoccupied with too many things. After all, do we not lose focus especially when we are stressed? But when I also noticed that I'm getting inefficient with my tasks, I decided to try LifeBotanica's Brain and Memory Power. And that was the best decision I made. I have started to see improvement in my mental focus. My alertness is back and I am ready to take on the challenge!

– Glenn Roa

I am a mature woman over 60, and I have been for years using the LifeBotanica anti-aging Products, Age Defying and Detox. While my hair and skin look good I suddenly see that I forget things and lose focus. While I am proud of looking good, my mind was starting to get foggier. I even went to a presentation for adults about aging brain and what one should do to prevent further decline. Since I know the exceptional quality of LifeBotanica products, I started using Brain Power and I felt like a veil was removed from my head. Don't get me wrong I do not swallow random pills, but LifeBotanica products are GMP, NSF, and FDA certified. I am very thankful for this great product and with light heart I highly recommend it.

– Shala Adelipur, New York

I know a friend who has dementia, and I can't begin to imagine how difficult it must be for her and her family to deal with the debilitating condition. It interrupts every bit of her life, and I saw the frustration of slowly losing control over her life. I need to take care of my health, so when a friend told me about LifeBotanica's Brain and Memory Power, I bought some for myself. It's been more than a year, and I tell you the product delivers what it promises. I have observed that my memory is sharper, and I am able to handle mentally challenging tasks better. I totally recommend it.

– Alexa Gonzales, 56

I am a person who loves to take of her family, and I never get tired of doing that over and over again. Until recently, I noticed that I forget things more often. I used to be able to remember everything, but for some reasons I sometimes forget to call my sister, for example, or to list all I need for the grocery. That's why I tried LifeBotanica's Brain and Memory Power when I came across it in the internet. I ordered a few bottles, and that's when things started to get better and eventually back to normal. Thank you LifeBotanica!

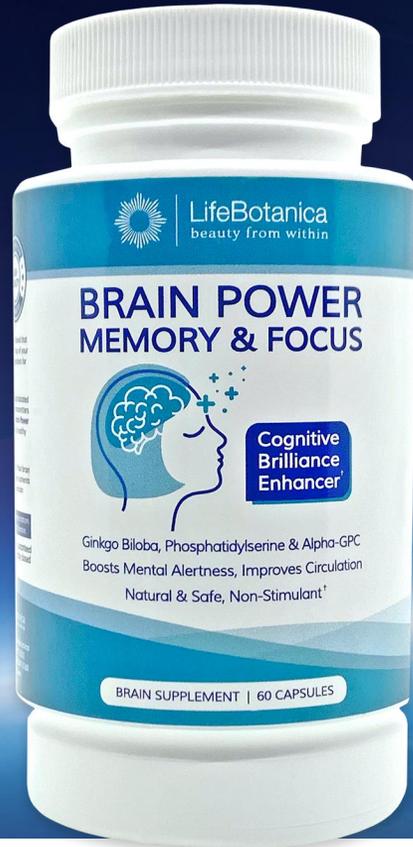

– Emma Byrd, 38

I am Farooq Ali, and I work as a banker. I have been using LifeBotanica detox for several years, so for sure I trust its quality. I am a hardworking person and always on the go. When I noticed that my memory is no longer as sharp as before, I got worried. I saw a few doctors and they said it is part of aging. Since I cannot just accept that, so I searched for the best product for the brain. I came across LifeBotanica, and I have been using Memory & Brain since, and I'm just amazed with the results. My concentration became better, and I no longer suffer from mental fatigue. I am back in the game, thanks to LifeBotanica. I recommend this product highly.
